Introduction

The Cheating Camel cycle trailers are a low cost way of obtaining a light-weight and strong, load-carrying trailer to tow behind your bike. These vehicles will usually pay for themselves in a few months by reducing the trips required in a car. They are designed so you can use 2nd hand bike wheels if you wish to save some money. If you want large trailers I can help build whatever you want to carry.

Styles of Trailer

There are lots of styles to suit your budget and load:

- Single wheel trailer is for touring or off road use and can carry one backpack < 20kg.
- Light weight two wheel trailer is great for shopping for loads up to 70kg.
- Heavy duty are for larger and/or heavier loads up to 120kg.
- Kayak trailer is for very long loads like kayaks and stand up paddleboards or lengths of timber.

The light weight can take a 100 litre jobmate bin from Mitre 10: 100 litre Jobmate Heavy Duty Storage Box

The heavy duty can be custom made to suit any size you require.

Extra hitches

If you wish to connect the same trailer to a second bike you can order an extra hitch base with towball or get the towbar bracket too, for attaching to your own trailer.

Price List

Prices for the trailers include aluminium frame and quick disconnect hitch (if required), and do NOT include wheels or bins. Weight limits are an approximate guide only and can be exceeded, but it increases the risk of damaging the trailer.
